LCMS Board of Directors - Announcement of Principal's Retirement

In the words of Lewis Carroll...

"The time has come," the Walrus said,
"To talk of many things:
Of shoes -- and ships -- and sealing-wax --
Of cabbages -- and kings --"

And of the retirement of our beloved principal, Susan Magnusson.

Recently Susan announced to the Board of Directors that she would like to retire from her position as Principal of Langley Community Music School. The Board is very saddened to see her leave this position, and we are truly thankful for her years of inspiration, commitment, and hard work. Susan succeeded Ian Hampton in the position of Principal in 2001; however, she began her teaching career at LCMS much earlier in 1973. Throughout her many years of dedicated leadership and inspiring instruction, she has become synonymous with the high calibre music school she successfully helped to develop.

Over the next few months, we will be conducting a search to find an individual to take on the role of Principal. I have attached the job description and ask for your help in spreading the word.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I wish Susan the very best in this next stage of her semi-retired life and look forward to working with her during the transition period.

Sincerely,

Sue Anderlini
President
Board of Directors
LCMS
