Canadian Music Weekend at LCMS!

The third week of November is Canada Music Week, and LCMS is celebrating with a weekend full of events November 24-25!

Saturday November 24

2pm - Canadian Music Week Student Concert

Students of all levels will perform works by a variety of Canadian composers, including works by Barbara Pentland and LCMS faculty member Leslie Janos. And... some students will be performing their very own compositions!!!

NEW! At this concert, Leslie Janos will also be premiering a new piece that he has written for piano trio, and will be performing it together with fellow LCMS faculty members Ian Hampton (cello) and Luiza Nelepca (violin).

7pm - Pre-Concert Talk

"Thoughts on Barbara Pentland" given by Dr. Ian Hampton, Artistic Director Emeritus

7:30pm - "A Portrait of Barbara Pentland" Concert on Two Pianos with the Bergmann Piano Duo

The concert will feature Pentland's Two Piano Sonata, 3 Piano Duets after pictures by Paul Klee, and Puppet Show. Also on the programme are works by composers who inspired her: Stravinsky's Concerto per due pianoforti soli, Hindemith's Sonata for piano 4 hands, Copland's Dance of the Adolescent. A work for two pianos written especially for the occasion by Marcel Bergmann will also be premiered.

Saturday November 25

3:30 pm - Creating Composers Concert with members of the Turning Point Ensemble

This concert features the premiere performances of pieces by students who have through worked together with composer Rodney Sharman and members of the Turning Point Ensemble in the Creating Composers programme. For more information about the Turning Point Ensemble, please visit www.turningpointensemble.ca

Admission is free for all events (donations welcome)
